A REAL DILEMMA

"My finances right now are very attenuated," declared a man in conversation with me yesterday. "But I would give $5,000 to present when County Auditor Al Sullivan asks Colonel Garrett for the return of the money for grand jury committee service."

My path has never crossed that of Colonel Garrett, but I know of him by reputation, which informs me that he has very decided and positive views on many subjects and never hesitates to express them.

The Colonel was secretary of the late William E. Lewis grand jury, and like the rest of that body, served on a number of committees. When Judge Thomas D. Johnston approved the claims both for grand jury meetings and committee service—the Colonel changed to be in Martinez that day. He therefore sauntered over to the auditor's office and received his warrant. It was almost immediately thereafter that Sullivan was told that the claims might be illegal or that portion of them presented for committee service, so he forthwith turned them down on the remaining seventeen. Court action will soon determine whether he is right or wrong.

Even though unwittingly, under the auditor's own interpretation of the law, he issued an illegal warrant to Colonel Garrett, and therefore is in the position that he must demand the return of the money paid out for committee service. If he has made any such demand he has carefully safeguarded the fact from the public. Now if the Colonel should refuse to return the coin it would

Gasoline Price Takes New Drop In 'War' In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—UP—Gasoline prices continued dropping today as producers still failed to agree upon a voluntary production curtailment.

Everywhere on the coast, except Southern California, where rates already had been cut, major drops priced 2 1/2 cents a gallon. The new price posted by Standard Oil was: Ethyl, 18 cents; regular, 16; third grade, 14 1/2. Other companies followed the scale.

Independents in Los Angeles were selling mostly at 9.95 to 10.5 cents with some slashing to nearly as low as 7 cents. Oil buyers predicted a further slash of 2 to 3 cents next week unless over-production is curtailed immediately.

Pleasure Boat Reported Lost Since March 6

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 7.—UP—Inquiries were begun today in an effort to trace a missing San Diego, Calif., yachtman and an undetermined number of companions missing on the Pacific since they left Honolulu for Paapea March 6, 1934.

The yacht was the 48-foot cutter Vifa, owned by St. Miller of San Diego. After participating in the 1934 trans-Pacific yacht race from California to Honolulu, Miller and an undetermined number of companions were understood to have departed for the Fanning Islands.

From there, it was said, the party planned to proceed to Paapea.

Dwight Long, Seattle yachtman, made the inquiries which aroused fears Miller and his party were lost. Long said Miller never arrived in Paapea, and that more than 100 letters had accumulated there, awaiting his arrival.

BRITISH FLEET CHALLENGED

ITALIANS TO SEND SHIPS OUT TO SEA

ROME, Sept. 7.—UP—A challenge to Britain's strength and historic domination of the Mediterranean was seen tonight in plans for extensive Italian naval maneuvers in the eastern half of the sea.

One of the most interesting phases of the maneuvers, designed to display Italy's new strength and Britain's changed position, is expected to be the operations of 60 submarines between Sicily and Italian Libya, on the north coast of Africa.

Such a fleet would conceivably block all Mediterranean traffic and break the All-British commercial and military sea route to India, the Far East and Australia-New Zealand.

In the event of application of international sanctions against Italy in the Ethiopian dispute, it would be the Eastern Mediterranean waters where Italian submarines would attempt a blockade.

The contemplated maneuvers will be in the waters surrounding Malta, one of Britain's most important strategic bases along the all-important empire trade route through Gibraltar, Malta, the Suez, Egypt, Aden and India.

MANY AIRPLANES

Italian naval observers contend that the development of Italian fleet and establishment of numerous camps were slightly disconcerted tonight.

The cause of the disconcertment was Tom Lyle, the miner who made a strike last June that was heralded to the world as one of the richest bonanzas in history.

Samples of the quartz Lyle brought to town at that time assayed as high as $20,000 to the ton. Gold, the pure quartz, was sticking right out through the rocks.

Lyle disappeared ten days ago and, prior to his mysterious disappearance, no one ever had seen the rich gold mine.

Searching parties looking for Lyle found his gold mine today, high on the south slope of Bald Mountain. It was a ten-foot hole in the ground. Sheriff George A. Richart of Boulder county reported, but there was not much gold in it.

Sheriff Richart and his party took samples of the quartz out of the Lyle mine and compared it with samples of the ore Lyle brought from the mine when he reported his rich strike. Several geologists compared the two samples.

They all decided that the quartz which had the gold sticking out of it, and which assayed nearly $20,000 to the ton, never had been seen before in Colorado mountains.

Bakery Shop Is Burglarized Here

More than 100 bread tickets issued by the social service bureau for needy families and six dollars in silver were stolen from a bakery show owned by Mrs. Josephine Heinemann at 246 Sixth street on Friday evening.

The burglar gained entrance to the place through an unlocked door, police reported.

The bread tickets are of no value unless signed by the person to whom they are issued.

MARQUIS Guglielmo Marconi, world famous inventor of wireless telegraphy, who has volunteered for service with the Italian army in East Africa. He leaves Italy for Brazil Sept. 10 to attend the opening of a powerful radio station there. On his return he will enter the service. He is shown in the uniform of a naval captain.

Former King Alfonso Is Given Decree

LONDON, Sept. 7.—UP—Former King Alfonso of Spain has been granted an annulment of his marriage by the Holy Rota of the Vatican, the Sunday Referee said in a dispatch tonight from Rome.

The rumor has been recurrent for months that Alfonso has been seeking an annulment, but it has been repeatedly denied.

The Referee said that since the annulment was granted by the secret Rota tribunal, any publicity had been excluded. The Vatican neither confirms or denies the report, the Referee said.

Alfonso was married in 1906 to Princess Victoria Eugenia (known as Ena) a niece of King Edward VII of England. They had six children, the boys being afflicted with the hereditary blood disease of haemophilia (uncontrollable bleeding from a cut).

Although they apparently were deeply in love early in their marriage, Alfonso and Ena began to have disagreements, and after years of friction, separated definitively last year. The Queen went back to England and Alfonso remained in Europe.

Jap Officers Are Received In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—UP—Admiral Isamu Takahashi, General Haruhiko Nonimiya and other Japanese Army officers, delegates to the convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in New Orleans, paid a formal call on Mayor Frank L. Shaw today, during a brief stop here en route to the Louisiana city.

The Japanese officers arrived early and were forced to drive around the City Hall 15 minutes until the Mayor arrived at his offices.

GERMANS IN PROTEST TO U. S.

BILL UPHELD BY RULING OF JURIST

SHERMAN, Tex., Sept. 7.—UP—Federal Judge Randolph Bryant today upheld the constitutionality of the Connally oil contract act, one of the New Deal measures designed to stabilize the oil industry.

The ruling came when Judge Bryant refused the plea of the East Texas Refining Company for an order overruling the refusal of the Federal Oil Tender Board to grant permission to move 155,000 barrels of oil in interstate commerce.

UPLIFTS ACT

The Federal tender board, empowered to control movement of oil in interstate commerce as a means of stopping the flow of hot oil, were created under the Connally Act.

Judge Bryant's order upheld the right of the Federal tender board to prohibit movement in interstate commerce of hot oil, that is not produced according to State and Federal regulations.

Peace Is Seen Along Coast In Maritime Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—UP—Indications of returning peace in the disturbed San Francisco and Pacific Coast maritime situation were evident tonight as the dollar index, President Pierce and President Coolidge, tied up Thursday by a walkout of their crews, sailed respectively for New York and the Orient.

The Pacific American Shipowners' Association announced that the International Seamen's Union had dispatched a crew to the converter, B. C. to bring the Swave and Hoyt Point Anchorage to Seattle.

The freighter has been tied up since July 19 as a result of a British Columbia dock strike.

Full settlement of the prolonged strike of the bargemen's union which blockaded river boat traffic, appeared to be rapidly nearing, as Fred Starr, president of the union, announced the Stockton and Sacramento locals have accepted proposals from six operators and that service on the rivers will be resumed Tuesday.

Chain Store Tax Goes To Vote At Election In '36

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7.—UP—Sufficient signatures to qualify referendum against the chain store tax law, passed by the 1935 Legislature, were filed today with Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan.

Jordan announced that 136,000 qualified signatures had been filed with the referendum petition, of 20,526 more than actually were necessary.

As a result of the successful petition, the tax act, which would assess multiple unit concerns at rates ranging from $1 to $500 per store, will be submitted to a vote of the people at the November, 1936, general election.

Brother Of Mercy Flier Tells Story Of Air Crash

On an errand of mercy searching for four persons in a missing plane, Pilot Percy Hubbard, his brother, Russell Hubbard, and A. J. Douglas crashed on a sand bar, their plane burned, Percy Hubbard was so badly injured he could not be moved. Pilot Herman Russell Hubbard back by airplane. While having his broken arm set in Fairbanks hospital, he told the following graphic story of their crash with death to the United Press.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Sept. 7.—UP—My brother, Percy Hubbard, A. J. Douglas and myself left Fairbanks to search for Pilot Arthur Hines and his three passengers Tuesday at 1 P. M.

Two hours later, while flying up a valley, one gas tank went dry. Percy switched on the other tank but before it could take us had to land. Percy barked the ship and we crashed into the hillsides burying the pontoons with such force that it set Douglas' watch ahead three hours.

The ship caught fire immediately, right under us. Percy and I scrambled out, dazed, but Douglas was caught in his safety belt.

We finally freed himself and dashed from the flaming wreck. My wrist was broken and back burned. Douglas was all burned and the face and the inside of one hand was torn out. His arm and body were burned badly.

Percy's ribs were broken and he couldn't walk. He told us to keep to the river and follow it down (Continued on page 8)

Richmond Woman Reported Missing

A police radio broadcast was sent out at an early hour this morning for all officers in this section of the bay area to keep a lookout for Mrs. Belle Metcree, who has been missing since 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mrs. Metcree, who resides at 121 Fifty-eighth street, this city, left her home yesterday morning for Oakland where she was to pick up a pair of glasses at an optician's office for her husband, who works for the Paratone Company there. She delivered the glasses shortly before noon at the office of the company and left without contacting her husband, Revord Metcree.

The missing woman is described as being of fair complexion, five feet, seven inches in height and weighing about 130 pounds. She has brown hair and blue eyes. She was wearing a gray coat with gray fur collar, white shoes and white hat.

But the mother was not here to receive the glad news. She died about six years ago.

Her husband, however, had kept up the practice of a light at the window.

South American Hop Abandoned By Two Aviators

WHITE CASTLE, La., Sept. 7.—UP—James C. Prosser and Gilbert Stoll, Cleveland aviators, abandoned plans for a flight to Argentina today when examination of their plane, the Cleveland, showed that it could not be repaired here. The plane made a forced landing on a cotton plantation here yesterday.

Neither flier was hurt. Inspection showed the plane's propeller was bent the rear rudder damaged, the top tipped and other parts torn off. When the plane landed it nosed over and fell on its back.

To Lead Troops

"I HAVE fasted and prayed fervently for peace for Ethiopia and the world," said Empress Tse-Hsi of Ethiopia. But if hostilities should arise with Italy, she asserts, she will lead the troops into battle. Above she is shown at the palace in Addis Ababa, in her robes of state.

Mother Keeps Faith; Son Is Restored

LANDISBURG, Pa., Sept. 7.—UP—The small light that flickered for 12 years in the window of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Weller, symbol of a mother's hope that her missing son would be returned, was extinguished tonight.

The darkened window signified that the son, Amy, who vanished in 1923, had been found.

Mrs. Weller had never relinquished hope that her son would return. Each night at dusk, she placed the light in the window.

Many a night she awoke, thinking she heard unusual noises about the house, and called through an open window.

"Is that you, Amy?"

But the reply she hoped to hear never came.

Yesterday, a Red Cross nurse brought word to the home that the son had been located at Portland, Oregon, a victim of amnesia. He had no memory of events prior to 1923.

A checkup showed the man had served in the Marine Corps and it was through government fingerprints and photographs that his identity was established.

But the mother was not here to receive the glad news. She died about six years ago.

Her husband, however, had kept up the practice of a light at the window.

Garbo Film Is Awarded Prize At Exhibition

ROME, Sept. 7.—UP—Metro Goldwyn Mayer's film, "Anna Karenina," starring Greta Garbo in the screen adaptation of Leo Tolstoy's story, has been adjudged the best picture shown before the Third International Cinema Exhibition at Venice.

The committee supervising the exhibition awarded the film first prize, consisting of an artistic bronze cup donated by Premier Benito Mussolini.

Seven additional prizes, out of a total of 24, went to American-made pictures.

The committee's verdict characterized "Anna Karenina" as a "masterpiece of art."

Kino Vidor was adjudged the best producer and was awarded a cup donated by Italy's central cinema bureau.

"Rocky Sheep" based on Thackeray's "Vanity Fair" and produced by Radio Pictures, was adjudged the best color picture and awarded a cup by the name of "Kinema Show."

Walt Disney's "Flora and Son" held first place in animated cartoon, received the gold medal of the Italian Professional Artists' Confederation.

A funeral mass was celebrated at St. Paul's church at San Pablo yesterday morning for the late Louis Galletta, 55, local grocer, who died on Thursday morning after a brief illness.

Entombment was in St. Joseph's mausoleum. Wilson and Kratzer had charge of the rites.

pallbearers were Dominic Galletta, L. A. Costella, L. J. Scaddi, John Lauricella, A. Trainer and Thomas G. Pollice.

N. Y. JURIST IS SCORED BY NAZIS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—UP—The German government, its national honor deeply offended, tonight formally protested to the State Department against a New York magistrate's comparison of the German Nazi banner with the skull and cross bones of piracy.

The protest, lodged formally, but orally, with Secretary of State Cordell Hull by the German ambassador, Count Dr. Hans Luther, established something of a record in diplomatic annals for this sort of action.

PROTEST IS MADE

The remarks of Magistrate Brodsky, in dismissing charges against four alleged communists for assault upon the former German liner Bremen on July 26, were scarcely 12 hours old when Luther arrived at the State Department to protest.

He had interrupted his summer holiday in the Blue Ridge mountains at Leesburg, Va., and hurried to Washington at the cabled direction of his foreign office in Berlin.

The foreign office did not even wait for receipt of an official version of Magistrate Brodsky's remarks.

NOT HURRIED

The State Department was less hurried in its response. Magistrate Brodsky, in dismissing charges against four alleged communists for assault upon the former German liner Bremen on July 26, were scarcely 12 hours old when Luther arrived at the State Department to protest.

He was with Hull just over 20 minutes, at the conclusion of which (Continued on page 8)

$15,000 Damage Suit Filed For Death Of Child

MARTINEZ, Sept. 7.—For death of his 3-year-old daughter in a San Pablo dam road automobile crash, George A. Dunwell today asked damages of $15,000 in a suit he filed in superior court against Don Lee Minor, F. H. Minor and Jane Doe Minor.

Dunwell charges that his daughter, Joan Dunwell, received fatal injuries September 2, 1935, when an automobile in which she was riding as a passenger with Wesley Silveria was involved in a collision with a machine driven by Don Lee Minor, aged 20.

F. H. Minor and Jane Doe Minor, as parents of the youth, are named defendants as liable for his action.

The plaintiff charges that the wreck occurred through negligence of the youth.

Attorneys T. M. Carlson and Robert V. Collins of Richmond and Francis Collins of Crockett represent the plaintiff.

ONE HALF OF ETHIOPIA ARMY NOW AT ARMS

By EDWARD BEATTIE

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 7.—Half of Ethiopia's main power has joined the colors for war with Italy. It was estimated today.

Unwilling to abandon hope for peace, Emperor Haile Selassie intends to delay general mobilization until war is inevitable. When he issues his call, he will bring the total fighting strength to perhaps 1,250,000 men.

So far there has been no mobilization order. Mobilization as understood abroad is unknown here. But at present every little army in the nation is getting recruits daily. Farmers, laborers, townsmen are joining up voluntarily or in the case of men who are not employed, are being impressed into the service of their chiefs.

Twenty-five national districts are contributing their quotas of men—each little army under a tribal chief, poorly armed, untrained in any but the bare rudiments of modern warfare if trained at all, but fanatically brave.

Some men are marching hundreds of miles over almost impassable terrain to the fronts bordering on Eritrea and Italian Somaliland.

Estimates of the arms of the warriors remain pitifully small. Despite smuggling, it still is indicated that in all the country there is not as much ammunition as was used in one day in the World War.

The most respected chieftains of the army are men whose last taste of real warfare was obtained 40 years ago when the Ethiopian warriors slaughtered an Italian army at Adowa.

MRS. C. MERYL BISH is reported recovering from a recent illness. She is in Southern California.

ARTHUR LEE GIVEN FAREWELL SURPRISE

A group of De Moly boys and girls gave their brother member Arthur Lee a surprise party Friday evening at the Lee home on Fairmont avenue. Young Lee was first taken for a swim with some of the boys at the Richmond natatorium. Suddenly all of them but Lee's chum disappeared, but were very much in evidence again when Arthur, arriving at the darkened Lee residence, turned on the living room light.

Music, dancing and a homely buffet supper were enjoyed by the guests among whom were Jack Chernow, Elton Wallin, Fred Webster, Al Schaefer, Fred Glover, Ralph Bussey, Arthur Gosmer, Roy Red, Charles Keck, Kenney Hendon, Jack Haase, Kenneth Jackson, Darrell Sutton, Jack Carr, Jr., Della Banks, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Red, H. B. Carling, Mrs. Charlotte Quackenbush and Mrs. Phil Lee, and Miss Vilate Lee.

FRIENDS HONOR MRS. MANUEL GUTIERREZ

A pleasant surprise party, complimentary to Mrs. Manuel Gutierrez, was held at the home of Mr. M. L. Carling, 719 Alameda street, Friday evening. The hostesses were Mrs. F. M. Gilbert, Mrs. M. L. Carling and Mrs. Jesse Hitchcock, Jr.

Games and cards occupied the evening. A general prize for those who do not play cards fell to the lot of Mrs. Fortuna. Prizes for high scores at whist were awarded to Mrs. Carl Thompson, Mrs. M. L. Carling, Mrs. C. Anderson, Mrs. Bodie and Mrs. Carl Carling.

Following the games, dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses. The table was beautifully decorated with garden flowers and tiny stories.

Among the guests were Mrs. Charles Schwake, Mrs. V. Brown, Mrs. Otto Palmberg, Mrs. Molzan, Mrs. C. Carling, Mrs. S. Fortuna, Mrs. Ganserson, Mrs. Fanny L. Breneman, Mrs. Anthony J. Hanson, Mrs. Guy Hitchcock,

New Highway Pierces Andes

Spectacular Scenery Along the Route of the New Central Highway of Peru, Through the Andes Mountains

SOARING far above the clouds to an elevation of 14,645 feet, 11 Ford V-8 cars recently tried out the new Central Highway of Peru, which runs for 110 miles between Lima and Tarma. Every one of the cars functioned perfectly despite the great altitude and still clouds. The first in to Tarma set a record for the trip of four hours 27 minutes. The next Ford was three minutes behind.

An interview in La Prensa, Lima newspaper, with Senor Victor Larco H. gives some idea of what Peru's link of their new national highway shows the clouds "Central Highway," said Senor Larco.

"gave me an impression of grandeur comparable only to the spectacular creations of Nature, which, encircled by mountains, have been seen for the first time thanks to this new highway." The great reduction in railroad fares on the Ferrocarril Central, in an effort to ward off bus transportation, shows the enormous commercial movement that will follow this new means of travel.

The new highway, which ranks with any in the world for spectacular scenery, is expected to attract many tourists who will at last be able to penetrate the Peruvian Andes by road.

Diesel Engine To Draw Crack Santa Fe Train

Announcement by the Santa Fe railway that it has taken delivery from the Electro-Motive Corporation of the most powerful Diesel locomotive ever placed in service—and that the new giant, if exhaustive tests prove successful, will haul the road's crack flier, The Chief, between Chicago and California, on a faster schedule than at present—marks another dramatic milestone in the spectacular drive by the management of major American lines to regain for the rails their old place in the sun with the traveling public.

With a conservatively rated 3600 horse power, a weight of 240 tons and approximate over-all length of 127 feet, the Santa Fe's new "power house on wheels" overshadows any previous application of Diesel power to light streamlined trains to railcars, or to relatively light switching locomotives. Actually it is a multiple unit of two identical sections, which can be operated singly or together, or coupled to any desired number of similar units, all of which can be controlled by a single operator. It marks the longest step yet taken in exploring the possibilities of applying the flexibility and economical power of diesel to any kind of train or motive power service.

DANGEROUS LANDINGS

LOIS by BULL

CHAPTER XXXI
IN THE meantime of the two imprisoned in the subterranean cave, Tommy regained consciousness first. How many hours, he wondered, had passed? Frantically, he tried to loosen his bonds. His eyes tried to pierce the darkness. But he could see nothing.

He was lying against the rough-hewn wall of rock. If he could only find a sharp edge. Perhaps, he thought, he could pry the rock apart. He tried to move, but his hands were too weak. He lay there, waiting for a chance to escape.

YOUR HEALTH

Is Epilepsy Hereditary? The Answer Is Both "Yes" and "No"

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

MISS H. B. I. asks if epilepsy is hereditary. The usual answer to that question would be "yes," with reservations. She goes further and states that her brother has had attacks from infancy, that they are infrequent and occur only at night. That no other member of the family or relationship has ever been so afflicted. She is about to be married and anxious to know what effect that may have on her future children.

Epilepsy is a manifestation of an unbalanced nervous system, and that condition is often carried from parent to child. One child may have epilepsy, another some other condition such as St. Vitus' dance, a spasmodic cough, fainting attacks, and so forth. In this case, this brother is probably suffering from some nervous irritation, such as a phimosia, or intestinal worms, or he is a subject of irritation produced by some food or digestive disturbance. The probability that this type of trouble will appear as an hereditary tendency is remote and a careful checking up for possible sources of nervous irritation may cure this boy.

Some very slight indigestion, a diseased or imbedded tooth, nasal obstruction or infection may be the cause, I am of the opinion that there is very little danger of this case proving hereditary.

Tuberculosis of Hip

Mr. J. G. S. wants the symptoms, treatment, and results in tuberculosis of the hip. That is a large order, since an entire volume could be written on tuberculosis of the bones and joints. This condition is usually slow in developing. There are usually signs of "consumption" in other parts of the body, but it may occur in a joint first. It is frequently the result of a blow or injury, hence is more common in boys than girls.

The first indications appear between the ages of five or six or twenty years. The child complains at night of his leg hurting, usually not in the hip, but along the thigh and passing down to the knee. In the morning, it does not hurt, but in the evening his leg is tired, so he sits or lies down, draws up the knee and may waken during the night with sharp pains in the leg.

This is referred to by the family as rheumatism or "growing pains." This diagnosis of "growing pains" has deformed and crippled more children than any other I know of. When some patient informs me that one of the children has growing pains, I get anxious at once. These children are often quite healthy, but if watched carefully, a little limp will be noticeable. They will rest this leg.

Leg Drawn Up

When they lie down the knee will be drawn up either over the other leg or thrown out from it. They are irritable, may show a little fever in the evening. Gradually the leg becomes smaller, the knee joint looks large and sometimes a little swelling can be felt over the hip joint, and it may be painful to pressure.

The limp becomes more apparent and the leg shorter, mostly due to contraction of the muscles in the effort to hold the joint still. It may improve for a short time and then become active again. X-ray examination will show the exact condition and indicate the best form of treatment.

In general, this treatment is rest in bed. It may be for a long time and means bed rest with a weight to hold the joint surfaces apart and prevent movement. Plaster of Paris splints or braces to support the joint and allow the child to be about are used as required. Operation or injection of the joint with antiseptic solutions are often resorted to. If the joint is not rested, it will become stiff, and the leg will be useless.

Dr. Chrisman offers readers the privilege of addressing questions to him care of this column. He will answer questions of general interest in his regular daily column on this page.

Washing Corduroys

A reader inquires, "Please tell me how to wash a pair of corduroy slacks?" Move the article up and down in lukewarm sudsy water. Be sure to use mild soap. Any spots may be rubbed gently with the hands. Rinse thoroughly in clear lukewarm water. Do not wring the garment. Squeeze as much water as possible out with the hands. Any harsh treatment as rubbing on a washboard or with the hands or passing the garment through a wringer, injures the nap. When almost dry, place garment face downward on a Turkish towel and press lightly with the nap.

Profiles For Today

He Wins the Battle of The Vitamins

By TALBOT LAKE

THE battle of the vitamins goes on, and the most important General on our side now is Dr. Herbert McLean Evans. Dr. Evans recently announced that he had captured the elusive vitamin E in a highly concentrated crystalline form. This means that the element will now be available for use medically, and possibly will be introduced in certain foodstuffs which lack that particular vitamin. Vitamin E, found in wheat germ, lettuce, soy bean, cotton seed and several other vegetables, is essential as a fertility agent in mammals.

Dr. Evans' researches have frequently been attended by discoveries of scientific interest; so much so that whenever he appears before a learned society, his audience is prepared for announcements of practical value to a world still plodding in chemical darkness. Vitamin F is one of his discoveries, resulting from a test of pure food administered to rats. It is an element essential for normal growth in animals who attain scarcely half their normal size and remain immature without it. So one might trace his discoveries.

One of the foremost American scientists in anatomy, specializing in glands, Dr. Evans is a prominent member of the faculty of the University of California, where he was graduated as a bachelor of science in 1904. Obtaining his medical degree at Johns Hopkins in 1908, he remained there as assistant professor in anatomy until 1915 when he returned to his native State.

KNITWEAR FOR 'ALYCE'

Copyright, 1935, by Fairchild. Diversity in stitch details and neckline identifies the group of knitted fashions designed for Alyce Jane McHenry. French sepiol makes both models. Raspberry is chosen for the top sweater, which uses cable stitching decoratively. A ruffled upstanding collar distinguishes the blouse of this two-piece dress, which uses hand crocheted white angora for contrast to the navy.

Leaving Boxes Open Is Fatal To Cosmetics

By JACQUELINE HUNT

NEARLY as important as the care you give your skin is the care you give your cosmetics. No matter how carefully you have planned your beauty program and how faithfully you have followed it, if you are careless about handling and using your cosmetics the results will be disappointing.

Cross-examine yourself and see if you are giving your cosmetics a fair chance. Do you leave the cover off your powder box the lids off your rouge and cream jars and corks out of lotion and perfume bottles? Tightly closed jars, bottles and boxes keep the contents clean and sanitary, and prevent evaporation and deterioration.

There is not much sense in cleansing your skin with cream that has accumulated dust and lint, or cleansing it in any way and then scrubbing soiled rouge and powder into the pores. The same applies to powder puffs that are allowed to shift around loose in pocketbooks or drawers.

If you have been careless in habits in the past make a new start when you buy your fall cosmetics. Discard any old, partly used jars that have become dusty and acquired an unpleasant odor. And I hope you will discard all old powder puffs along with them.

Buy a big roll of absorbent cotton and use a fresh piece each time you use skin tonic or powder. Or, if you want to spend a little more, get the cotton already cut into little square pads or that packed in cans that allow you to pull out what you need and leave the rest untouched. If you prefer puffs for powder then get the tiny fellows that come a dozen or so in a package and discard them after a day or two.

If you use the powder rouge for quick retouching during a busy day see that you always have a clean puff for this purpose. Tiny rounds of cotton flannel are excellent for applying rouge and if you always use a fresh one there is less danger of clogged pores.

Creams should always be tightly covered. Exposure to the air, especially in the summer, is apt to turn the purest and most expensive cream rancid. If you buy large jars of creams and large bottles of tonic for the sake of economy (they are much cheaper), put some into a small container for everyday use and store the rest in a cold place until needed.

Be sure that the caps of your lipsticks fit tightly to keep out flakes of tobacco from your cigarettes, dust and the fine particles of debris that accumulate in your pocketbook.

Brushes are also abused beauty aids. All too often they are allowed to become soiled, smelly and the bristles soggy from standing in pools of soapy water. Two or three times a week wash all complexion brushes, nail brushes, tooth brushes, hair brushes and bath brushes in warm soapsuds, rinse thoroughly in clear water and then in an antiseptic solution, and allow to dry in the fresh air and sunshine.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "I shampoo my hair carefully and regularly, but I can never seem to remove entirely the soap, and as a result my hair looks dull and sticky two or three days after it is washed. Is there any special preparation that I could use to prevent this?"—Alice.

My guess is that you are not using enough soap thoroughly to cut the oil and grime in your hair. In the first place, use a liquid soap—any good hand soap shaved fine and dissolved in hot water—and give your hair two or three good sudings, rinsing with clear water between each one. Rinse several times after the final suding and add a half cup vinegar or the strained juice of one or two lemons to the last rinse water. Follow this plan and see if your hair isn't bright and silky afterward.

The girl who likes to go hatless during the summer and warm autumn months should take the following steps to keep her hair healthy and just the way she likes it. 1. Wash your hair at least once every two weeks to keep it free from dust and perspiration. 2. Brush your hair every night to cleanse and stimulate the scalp and polish the strands. 3. Avoid the use of harsh bleaches and hair dyes that tend to dry out the hair and make it break off. 4. Protect the hair from sunburning and drying by occasional oil treatments and brilliantine or pomade.

For Going About

Tailored in a new sheer woolen of soft brown shade, this attractive frock is ideal for sightseeing all day long in town. The white pique vest and white hand-stitching add a refreshing touch.

Daytime Dresses Decided On Question Of Length

By IRENE VAIL

New York — Daytime dresses show a marked tendency to stand pat on the length situation; a movement at all is up, not down, and that inch by inch. It will be a source of delight to busy women who have no time to run home and change, if dinner dresses are made street length, as Mainbocher seems to feel they should be. After all, the only distinction between many dinner and dresses of an elaborate order is the length of the skirt. Long ones are graceful and charming, but it begins to look as though, if the question of skirt lengths were put to a vote the short ones would win.

While there are many silhouettes, it is just as well to remember that most of them are belted. Belts have their ups and downs yet many contrive to stay at normal. The hipbone is the lowest level reached in any models seen to date.

Bright belts on dark costumes are a feature by no means exclusive with this house—everyone is doing it, and red is the usual choice when the dress is black. Many early autumn frocks will be black—particularly satin and jersey, both daytime fabrics.

Gold ornaments galore are seen about—some other metals, too. Gold beads, however, which is natural enough, since that military touch is right for this season. Gold

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "When two women take cigarettes, is it necessary for one to help the other to a light? Or does each light her own cigarette?"—N. O.

ANSWER: Whichever one has the lighter or the matches hands lights her companion's cigarette before lighting her own.

QUESTION: "Is fringe in style? I have a very expensive dress trimmed with fringe. It is a black chiffon crepe, and has a cape of fringe at the back. The fringe is long and the cape comes as far as the waistline. The skirt is also covered with fringe. It's really beautiful. Please let me know if I can wear it now or keep it till fringe comes in style again. I thank you?"—M. D. A.

ANSWER: Why not have the dress made over and get some wear out of it? For even if fringe should come back into style again the style of the dress itself may be all wrong. Save the fringe; you may be able to use it on something else some day.

Dishes for Today

Desserts Play An Important Summer Role

By JUDITH WILSON

WE ALL like desserts in the wintertime when meals are hearty, but they never play such an important role as they do in the summer. Often the summer dessert is the main course of the meal. Sturdy fruit cobblers, fruit dumplings, fresh fruit, spicy berry puddings and gingerbread are some of the favorites, after a light main course of salad or meat and vegetables.

LUNCHEONS

Chicken Salad Roll
Stuffed Tomato on Lettuce Hearts
with French Dressing
Banana Shortcake with Butterscotch Sauce
Tea
Baked Kidney Beans and Cheese
Hard Rolls
Green Salad
Tapioca Pudding
Coffee

Peach Dumplings

Make a rich pie pastry and set in the refrigerator to chill while you prepare the peaches. Choose ripe, rather small peaches and remove the skin. If it doesn't come off easily, dip for a minute into boiling water. Slice the peaches and remove the seeds, filling the cavities with cinnamon, sugar and enough butter to make a crumbly mixture. Lay each peach on a square of dough large enough to cover completely. Moisten the edges and draw up the corners. Pinch together in the center and crimp the edges together. Brush with slightly beaten egg to which a tablespoon water has been added, sprinkle with sugar and bake in a moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes.

Gingerbread Filling
Follow your favorite recipe for gingerbread. Cut into pieces for serving while still warm, split and spread with the following filling: Blend thoroughly 1 cup sweetened condensed milk and 3 tablespoons lemon juice until the mixture thickens. Mash 1 3-oz. package cream cheese, add to the first mixture and beat until smooth. Another gingerbread filling that you may prefer is made by mashing two 3-oz. packages cream cheese to a smooth paste with 1/2 cup milk. Add 1 cup finely chopped dates and 1/2 cup chopped nuts.

Rio Fruit Salad
This makes a good main course salad for hot day or a salad-dessert for any meal. Mix chopped toasted Brazil nuts with cottage cheese and form into rather long, thin rolls. Lay a roll on each salad plate on crisp lettuce and cover with alternate segments of orange and grapefruit. Between the fruit segments arrange thin strips of green pepper or avocado and surround with chopped nuts. Serve with a French dressing made with lemon juice instead of vinegar.

Plum Refrigerator Cake
Place washed blue plums in a saucepan, add enough water to cover and cook until soft. Cool and press the pulp through a sieve. To 1 cup of the pulp, add 1/2 cup orange juice, 3/4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Fold in 1 cup heavy cream whipped until stiff. Next fold in 2 stiffly beaten egg whites. Line a refrigerator tray with lady fingers. You will need about 2 dozen altogether. Crush those not needed for lining and fill the tray with alternate layers of the plum mixture and the lady finger crumbs. Keep in the freezing compartment until ready to use. Serve with additional whipped cream.

AN UNUSUAL COMBINATION

SHRIMP AND ORANGE MOLDS: One package lemon-flavored gelatin, one cup warm water, one cup shrimp liquor and water, one tablespoon vinegar, one cup shrimps, drained and halved lengthwise, two oranges, sections free from membrane and diced. Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add shrimp liquor and water and vinegar. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in shrimps and oranges. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves six.

MODERN WOMEN

It's Bad Business for a Couple to Stop Being Frank With Each Other

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

MEN very stupidly omit telling their wives things they imagine are going to upset them. They never seem to learn that it is not being told and finding out in some other way that hurts them, rather than the act itself.

Frankness is most disarming. Men and women so seldom see that and continue to go on keeping trivial little things, chance meetings, and so on, "under their hats," instead of mentioning them in the casual way casual encounters rate.

One is invariably suspicious of concealment, and the husband or wife who hopes to get away with trying—and being found out—does not deserve much sympathy. When, as in the case cited below, there are two conspirators, no one can accuse the wife of being unduly suspicious or jealous.

"My dear Mrs. Martin: My position is an intolerable one. I have just learned in a roundabout way (but there can be no doubt of the truth of it) that my husband has been meeting one of my best friends for lunches and heaven knows what. Some one saw them, not once, but several times. I cannot believe this is true, yet it must be. And I thought we were so happy. What can I do? It would all come out if I stopped seeing this woman, who is an attractive widow. Angry."

Difficult to Answer
A letter such as this is one of the most difficult I have to answer. Every woman reacts differently to such a situation. It may not be a subtle way of handling this or kindred situations, but one way at least is to remark, as casually as possible, to friend husband that you understand he took Mrs. So-and-So to luncheon on such and such a day. He will probably be prepared with one of those perfect alibis beginning, "Oh, didn't I tell you about that? I must have forgotten." As for which you could go on with the inquiry by remarking, "But how about the time before that, or the time before that?"

Not subtle, of course, but sure of some sort of results, if only in having the satisfaction of giving the culprit a bad five minutes—or hours, as the case may be. In any event, the matter is one to be discussed with the husband, not the woman. That would put the lady not only on the spot, which she deserves, but immediately elicit sympathy for her from your husband—which is just what you don't want.

If you are the Spartan type or the don't-care kind, best say nothing about it, but I gather from the manner of writing your letter that you do care and that, being angry, you are not likely to keep the cause of your anger to yourself. On the whole, it will clear the atmosphere if you do let your husband know that this has come to your ears.

Sometimes Flattered
Husbands frequently are flattered into very foolish actions. Taking an attractive widow to lunch may be just an instance of it. After all, there is nothing criminal about that, and I doubt if you would object were it not that the occasion, or occasions, had been sub-rosa? Isn't that it, really?

I also want to leave the thought with you that there might be some good reason for these meetings, either business of the woman or someone in whom she is interested. The fault lies in keeping the matter from you, and were I in your place that would be my only offensive.

If you are one of the sheltered women with no business background, you may not realize how very casual midday meals can be. Don't let your imagination run riot. If you are such a close friend of this woman you ought to be able to tell whether there has been any attraction between them.

If such an attraction does exist they may now be expert at out-fooling it, but in the beginning it should have been apparent.

Short Cuts

When canapes have to be made up in advance, spread the crackers, wafers or toasts with soft butter before spreading them with canape mixtures. Also be sure to drain thoroughly such moist garnishes as pickles, pimientos, pickled onions, chopped onions or olives, to keep the bread or crackers crisp for serving.

Many homemakers do not know that large beets are often just as tender as small beets. The quality of the beets depends upon quick development, and the physical conditions for raising beets or market today are conducive to rapid growth. And so large or small, modern growing methods turn them out young and tender.

This delicious cheese food is DIGESTIBLE AS MILK ITSELF!

Hidden in Velveeta's richly mild Cheddar Cheese flavor are health protective elements of many foods. It's wonderful for children. Serve Kraft Velveeta—in sandwiches, in cooked dishes... often!

Don't Take Pills For Constipation

Ordinary pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels without making the liver discharge its excess bile. That's why the trouble returns in a day or two and you have to swallow more pills. What every constipated person needs is a good liver tonic like Plantax to thoroughly cleanse the digestive system of all foul secretions and at the same time restore the torpid, lazy liver to proper working order. When this is done you will no longer have frequent headaches, coated tongue, yellow skin, sour stomach, gas, bilious attacks or other symptoms of constipation and liver trouble.

Plantax is made from the juices of harmless medicinal plants—Nature's own remedy—that act in a mild, easy way without sickening or irritating the organs. Try it tonight. Large bottle $1.00, 30-day course $2.00.

FOR RENT—315-17 Macdonald Ave. Brick building, store $15 and a 7 room sunny apartment $20. Both for $35 per month. See Mr. J. Gordon, 321 Macdonald, Phone 117.

Spreckles Is Secretly Wed At Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 7.—UP—Adolph S. Spreckles, Jr., 23-year-old heir to the sugar fortune amassed by his father, and his 18-year-old bride, Gloria M. Debevoise, shipped out of Baltimore tonight for an autumn honeymoon in the South.

They were married here quietly late yesterday after a romance that blossomed a month ago on the French Riviera, where young Spreckles had gone after being discharged in Reno by Mrs. Lois Clark De Ruyter Spreckles, former wife of Jack De Ruyter, New York.

The day after her divorce, she married Frank Clinton, Beverly Hills, Cal.

Spreckles' new bride is the daughter of Mrs. William Howe Debevoise.

Prompt Help For Itching Eczema

It's wonderful the way soothing, cooling Zemo brings prompt relief to itching, burning skin, even in severe cases. Itching soon stops when Zemo touches tender and irritated skin because of its rare ingredients. To relieve Rashes, Ringworm, and comfort the irritation of Eczema and Pimples, always use clean, soothing Zemo. Insist on genuine Zemo. Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau, No. 4874. 35c, 60c, $1. All druggists.

Roosevelt Aid Will Be Asked In Gale Areas

MIAMI, Sept. 7.—UP—The operation of President Roosevelt was asked tonight by officials of the Federal Emergency Management Agency to develop a system for more efficient warnings to those in the paths of hurricanes which from time to time blast their way in from the tropics with murderous intensity.

Governor Dave Sholtz gave the assurance as funeral pyres brightened the night and graves were prepared for the hundreds who died on the most recent of these recurring disasters.

Sholtz, estimating that the death toll would number between 500 and 600, mostly World War veterans, said property damage would be more than $5,000,000.

"Our report will go to President Roosevelt because it involves several governmental agencies," said Aubrey Williams, representative of the FERA in its investigation.

Plea Is Made To Save Mrs. Madison

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7.—UP—A petition asking Merriam to commute the death sentence of Mrs. Nellie Madison to life imprisonment was received today by the governor. It carried the signatures of 45 residents of Los Angeles mostly women. Mrs. Madison is scheduled to be hanged October 4 for the murder of her husband.

BILL UPHELD BY RULING OF JURIST

merely reviewed the briefs of attorneys for the Federal Tender Board and the plaintiff company and then announced tersely that the petition was denied.

The East Texas Refining Company had attacked the constitutionality of the Connally Act on the grounds that under the guise of regulating interstate commerce the Federal government was attempting to step in and assist a State in enforcing its prohibition laws.

MEASURE ATTACKED

The Connally oil control act was passed by Congress last February to provide Federal supervision of interstate oil shipments. Violation of State oil regulations in the East Texas field was the prime reason for the legislation. The measure was sponsored by Senator Tom Connally of Texas and was backed by the State Railroad Commission and Governor James V. Alfred, latterly opposing it was Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma. Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes said the measure did not go far enough. He advocated complete Federal control of the oil industry.

Services Will Be Held Monday For Local Woman

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock from Our Lady of Mercy church at the residence of the late Mrs. Nora Hickey Sullivan, 55, sister of Mrs. Winifred Burant, 102 South Twenty-third street, who died yesterday.

Deceased was a native of Ireland and had lived at the west side of a number of years.

Besides Mrs. Burant, deceased leaves another sister, Mrs. Abigail Timoney and two brothers, Cornelius and Daniel Kellher, all of San Francisco.

Rosary will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Richmond Funeral Home.

Interment at St. Joseph's cemetery will follow the services.

WALKED THREE DAYS

We walked three days, passing rough Indian huts and, at night, as we had no bedding,

I had to gather berries for a lot of us and give Douglas water. He couldn't use his hand. His face swelled up so he could barely see.

I took off my underwear to wrap around Douglas. He was so cold, after struggling about the river for three days, covering 25 miles, we finally reached a mining camp above Van Carter's bar, Thursday afternoon.

We found miners and Dr. Owensby, formerly of Kansas City. I thought I'd die when he set my arm. A bunch of miners started up the river for Perry. After Douglas had rested over night, he felt rested and he said he couldn't stand waiting any longer. So he and Dr. Owensby also started out.

WERE RESCUED

Later we heard a plane overhead. I grabbed a blanket and ran out of the cabin. It was just luck. Pilot Al Monson saw me as he circled around.

We spelled out on the ground with rags, dish cloths and anything white we could find. The words "Perry," then "help," then made the figure "30" and an arrow pointing up the river where Perry would be.

Later Al dropped a note saying Herman Josey was coming with a wheel plane from Fairbanks and would land on Van Carter's bar, so we walked down there. Later it came.

Today a plane went out to direct the boys of the river to Perry, in case they haven't found him, also to drop food.

Monson believed he saw my brother near an old cabin and Perry waved to him.

ANOTHER EXPLODED THEORY

Here is a shock for the boys, old and young, who run around with their hair and head exposed to the sun.

Charles W. Eldridge, of St. Petersburg, Florida, recently celebrated his 104th birthday, a ripe old age, one must concede. Asked for his secret of longevity he said: "Keep your hat on and don't worry."

"The head should be bared no longer than the rest of the body," he declared. "Benefits from the sun's active rays are to be obtained in 20 minutes. I have seen stars in the old days who made the mistake of going hatless and lost their hair within a year. Salts which were their head covered retained their locks."

Thus one of our cherished notions is exploded and perhaps the latter will again come into his own. Who knows in these days of outstanding enterprise, what the hat makers were responsible for the pronouncement. Anyway, we can agree with the gentleman about refraining from worry. It is hardly likely that that rule will be exploded by anyone coming forward and saying that years were added to his life's span through being mentally upset.

PECULIAR COMPLEX

I often wonder what there is about luncheon clubs that causes a man to pop off on a turn. Level-headed individuals in their business seem to lose the sense of proportion and the general fitness of things when a post-prandial roles, and mad declarations that come bounding back with very embarrassing effect.

A recent striking example is John V. Lewis, collector of internal revenue, who, in a moment, told a Mason county luncheon club that a section San Francisco ex-policeman had accumulated the neat little sum of $110,000 from vice pay-off, while a member of the force immediately there ensued an uproar the reverberations of which have not yet died away. Demand were made upon him for facts to substantiate the accusation. Mayor Rossi of San Francisco, District Attorney Brady and others, it was then that Lewis realized that he had spoken out of turn. He attempted to take refuge behind the declaration that the law prohibited him from disclosing such information. But his winking and squinting were to no avail. Direct appeal was made to the Treasury Department at Washington to instruct Mr. Lewis to disclose the identity of the alleged guilty cop, so that the offender might be punished and the ex-cutehon of San Francisco cleaned of the blot on it. In the meantime Mr. Lewis was summoned to appear before the grand jury and discharge all incriminating data in he said he had had "a very interesting talk" with the secretary. He admitted that he had made a protest, but declined to elaborate.

AWAIT REPLY

Hull was likewise incommunicative. It was revealed, however, that Hull will request formally from Senator Herbert H. Lehman of New York an official version of Grodsky's remarks.

Any spouse the State Department may make to Germany must await receipt of the reply from the New York governor.

This was the procedure followed in the original incident upon which the present case was based. A group of alleged Communists boarded the liner Bremen as it was about to sail from New York harbor on June 26, and tore the Nazi Swastika banner from its staff on the bow of the liner. Two New York policemen were injured in their efforts to protect the flag.

FORMAL PROTEST

Further lodged a formal, written protest with Hull, and asked that those guilty be punished. Hull asked Governor Lehman and the New York police department for official versions.

The police version beat Governor Lehman's answer to Washington and on that report the State Department replied to Germany, expressing regret but at the same time pointing out that the New York police had accorded every possible protection to both the German vessel and the flag.

Hull's answer intimated that responsibility for the incident rested largely with the steamship line, which had ignored police warnings of the danger of some untoward incident, and had asked the officer to close the gangplank of the Bremen to all but bonafide passengers.

4 Escape Death In Fire, Blast On Small Yacht

GLoucester, Mass., Sept. 7. Four persons, including a woman, escaped possible death by four minutes tonight when they leaped off safety before the 83-foot yacht "Maree" of Boston burst into flames and sank a half mile off Bass Rock.

The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Nice of Watertown, and two passengers, George Chamblain, Jr., also of Watertown and Harry DeLong of Newton, leaped into the yacht's two tenders and were picked up by passing sailing yachts and later towed to the Eastern Point Yacht Club by a motor boat.

Henderson Rites Held On Saturday

Funeral services were conducted yesterday from the Wilson & Kratzer chapel for the late Mrs. Mary Emma Henderson, 75, of Chico, mother of George S. Henderson of Placerville.

Interment was in Sunset View cemetery. Pallbearers were James Silva, S. Silva, Manuel Marcos, Joseph Hanon, William Blackwood and Lloyd Moffat.

The probe is now going on. What will be the result is difficult to forecast, but in the meantime Mr. Lewis occupies a mighty uncomfortable position, and I am willing to wager all the tea in China, plus the entire Brazilian nut crop, that he will think twice before he accepts another luncheon-speaking engagement.

It would appear that when there is a surplus under the belt there is often a vacuum under the hair.

If Suez Is Blocked

THIS MAP shows what blocking of the Suez Canal by England might mean to Italy. From Rome to Massawa, Eritrea, where Italy now lands her troops the distance thru the canal is 2,800 miles. But if the canal was blocked, Italy then would be obliged to circumnavigate Africa, a distance of 10,850 miles to Mogadiscio, first Italian port with 1,500 miles more to Massawa.

BOOZE AND MILK

The direct result of repeal on the milk consumption in San Francisco for the past year, is shown in the following clipping:

San Francisco, during the past year, have been meeting their public health protection daily to the extent of 3400 gallons of the "greatest protective food" known to man.

This startling fact was revealed today by Mr. J. C. Geiger, director of public health, who deplored the drop in consumption of milk in San Francisco.

"Milk is nature's greatest gift to man," Dr. Geiger pointed out, "and the fact that there has been a reduction in the daily consumption of milk of nearly 3400 gallons represents a reduction in public health protection proportionately."

"Milk should be consumed daily from the cradle to the grave."

"If we were consistent in our habits of drinking milk, it would react to bettering our general physical well-being and add to our happiness."

"Milk is the greatest protective food served and should be consumed particularly by persons over 30 years old, and because of its non-fattening quality, especially by women."

Two Projects In This County Given WPA Okay

Two Contra Costa county projects have been approved by the WPA at Washington, according to word received here yesterday.

The Richmond project is for the construction of a bridge. The federal government will contribute $21,406 of the cost and the remaining $5,098 will be contributed by the State.

At Martinez a sum of $14,556 was approved for grading of a road with the local sponsors to put up a sum of $4126.

Numerous other projects were given approval by the Federal board. State projects will cost the ous air bases, with a heavy concentration of planes in the Mediterranean, directly affects the 150-year old policy of Britain to maintain a naval ratio in the Mediterranean of 2 to 1 against all-comers.

The traditional British program has been to control the entrance at Gibraltar and the outlet to the Red Sea at Suez, with other bases at Malta and Cyprus to serve as refuges and points from which the sea can be policed.

NAVY DOESN'T LAG

Although the world is familiar with Italy's progress in aviation and the army, Premier Benito Mussolini has not permitted naval defense to lag, since the Alps and the sea are Italy's natural defenses.

Italy's interest in the eastern section of the Mediterranean and the Red Sea, especially if her East African aspirations are realized, is expected to result in an even greater increase of naval strength in that sector.

LARGE NAVAL FORCE

The present Italian naval force shows the personal attention which Mussolini has devoted to it. According to the best information, Italy has a surface fleet of seven heavy modern cruisers; 12 light cruisers, 55 destroyers, between 60 and 70 submarines, and 45 small scout or patrol boats of 12 to 20 tons each.

In addition to the seven cruisers now in service, ten more are expected to be ready within two months, while two others will be commissioned next spring. Most of the cruisers can exceed 30 knots. Forty of the destroyers can make 38 knots and are equipped with six to eight inch guns and six to eight torpedo tubes.

MORE SUBMARINES

The ministry of Marine recently ordered the construction of 10 additional submarines, to be launched within 15 months. The total naval tonnage is 455,000, with an additional 139,000 under construction.

The personnel of the navy totals about 52,000 men and 3,500 officers with an active reserve of about 25,000.
